DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-17, drawn to a method of presenting the users a plurality of parameters and components so the users can choose options to their liking to plan for a trip, classified in class 705, subclass 6.
 - II. Claims 18-22 and 28-35, drawn to a display for users to create profiles and choose from a plurality of parameters to book reservations for a travel plan, classified in class 705, subclass 5.
 - III. Claims 23-27 and 42-49, drawn to a method of presentation of images or multimedia presentations to describe goods or service for purchase, classified in class 705, subclass 27.
 - IV. Claims 36-41, drawn to, a method to provide uses an electronic means of ordering goods, classified in class 705, subclass 26

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, II, III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I describes a method of developing a travel plan reservation with multiple travel components and given a plurality of parameters with pre-defined relationships. Invention II discloses a method of display for users of the inventions to choose from the plurality of parameters to successfully book a travel package. Invention III describes a method of presenting multimedia presentations to describe goods or products for purchase. Invention IV describes a method for suppliers of goods and products to make their products available for electronic shopping. See MPEP § 806.05(d):

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
